After lunch, we will depart for Delhi and drive to Agra, which is our next destination in this Golden Triangle Tour. Agra was a former Mughal capital city and has many historic Mughal-era monuments.

After lunch, we will drive to our next famous Golden Triangle Tour attraction that is Agra. We will make a halt at Fatehpur Sikri and you can admire the magnificent ruined capital of the Mughal empire. The buildings here are made of red sandstone and are among the most beautiful monuments in India. The monuments that you can visit here are Buland Darwaza, Tomb of Salim Chishti, Panch Mahal, and Jama Masjid.

You will reach Agra in the evening hours. On your arrival, you can check-in at your hotel and then visit the Taj Mahal, which looks extremely beautiful during the sunset. (Note that the Taj Mahal is closed for public view on Friday. If you reach Agra on a Friday, then we can view the Taj Mahal the next day at sunrise).

Later you can visit the Agra Fort, this is a massive fort that was built by the Mughal Emperor Akbar in 1565. You can visit the major portions of this enormous fort such as Shahjahani Mahal, Sheesh Mahal, and others. The palaces and gates here have some of the finest Mughal carvings and art. There are enormous corridors, courtyards, and gardens here. You can later explore the local market in Agra. Agra is famous for its petha sweets and leather products.
